Coming up fast: your first milestone on the road to Medellín

Dear friends,

The end of this weekend marks the official deadline for your proposal to WCSJ2022. We want to ensure that our programming committee has the most diverse and comprehensive representation of ideas from our community — this is no time to be shy! Let us know the kind of content you would like to put forward and we will look forward to including it in our rapidly growing pool of suggestions.

Remember that the conference dates have been moved to the week of June 27, 2022 and there will be a variety of virtual conference sessions in the two weeks leading up to the physical events in Medellín, Colombia. That will make for three busy weeks unlike anything the WFSJ has ever mounted, complete with keynote speakers, panel discussions, field trips, and even our first-ever online film festival. Please visit our website to learn more.

Deadline for the proposal submission is 12 September 2021.
