Education Committee

The WFSJ Education Committee has been busy. Among their latest discoveries: where in the world you can study science journalism.

2021 IIASA Science Communication Fellow Fanni Szakal

Her path to science journalism started with a carabiner and a water bottle.

2021 IIASA Science Communication Fellow Neema Tavakolian

His path to science journalism started on the coral reefs of Bermuda.

2021 Louise Behan Reporting Grant Winner Leonard Masauli

His interest in the fate of turtles uncovered the key to a disease threatening human populations.

2021 Louise Behan Reporting Grant Winner Sofia Moutinho

Her interest in an invasive species revealed how a major environmental threat encounters government indifference.
