

Subscribe

Past Issues

Translate ▼

View this email in your browser

Monthly Newsletter: February 8, 2023, | Like what you see? Sign up here

WFSJ News

French-speaking Africa science journalists' network (RJSFAF) has joined the WFSJ

The French-speaking Africa science journalists' network (RJSFAF) is a non-profit association created in July 2019, in Lausanne, Switzerland, during the French workshop at the 11th World Conference of Science Journalists.

Symposium to Advance Science Communication and Journalism in Chile (SAPECCT)

On April, 3, 4 and 5, members of several WFSJ affiliate organizations will be participating in the first Symposium to Advance Science Communication and Journalism in Chile (abbreviated SAPECCT for its name in Spanish), an event designed to bring together actors from all sectors of science communication and journalism to discuss the field's future in Chile.

SPRINGER NATURE

Apply for WCSJ 2023 Nature Travel Grant!

We are pleased to announce that four mid-career science journalists could win a grant to attend the WCSJ2023 World Conference of Science Journalists in Medellin, Colombia. The grants are sponsored by Nature, the International Journal of Science. We encourage science journalists from Global South (LMIC) to apply.

WCSJ2023 – Reaching Across Borders: Strengthening Science Journalism in Latin America

Our day-long workshop will focus on making successful pitches, building collaborative networks with science writers throughout Latin America and the important role that on-line science news sites play in reaching worldwide audiences. More info on www.wcsj.org

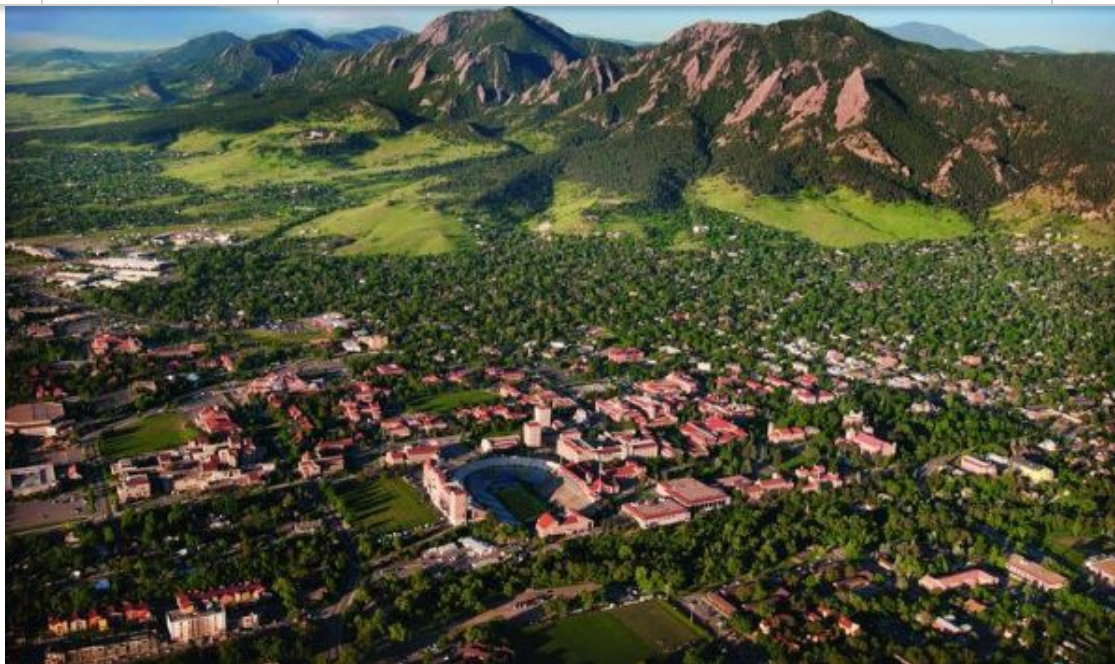

LATAM airline offer

We have partnered with LATAM airlines to offer special WCSJ discounts on business and economy class flights from Latin America.

AJCSB organized its annual general meeting in Cotonou

Further development of science journalism in Benin and Africa is priority for AJCSB

Fellowship opportunity in Environmental Journalism

University of Colorado Boulder is currently accepting applications for the Ted Scripps Fellowships in Environmental Journalism – the deadline to apply is March 1. They will provide an academic year at the University of Colorado Boulder where five fellows take classes and attend seminars and field trips to become better science communicators and journalists.

Donate

Subscribe

Past Issues

Translate ▼

Copyright © 2023 WFSJ, All rights reserved.

Want to change how you receive these emails?
You can update your preferences or unsubscribe from this list.